How to Make Hot Tea

The simplest and surest way of making tea is to use a tea bowl of nickel or silver or a wire basket. Allow a teaspoonful of leaves for each cup of water that has been drawn from a spigot and brought to a rapid boil. Pour over the tea and when the right color and strength remove and carry to cup until the required number are made. There is no danger of overdrawn tea in this method. Be sure to have the cups hot. If made in a pot, scald the pot with hot water, put the required tea-spoonfuls of leaves in the bottom, pour on about 1 cup of boiling water, let it stand two minutes. Then pour on the number of cups of boiling water required. Let stand three minutes longer. Serve at once. Buy the tea at the Chicago Daily—Adv.

that systematic preparations are being completed for such an eventuality.

The Pennsylvania has for weeks been instructing a large force made up of its unorganized employees in the running of trains.

"We hope for the best, but are prepared for the worst."

SHIPPERS ARE LOOKING TO MOTOR TRUCKS NOW

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—All railroads entering the Pittsburgh district were busy today completing preparations commenced a week or more ago for handling business in case of a strike. Pennsylvania railroad employees some time ago were called as to their availability for service in any department where they may be needed and report was made that in excess of ninety per cent had signified their willingness to work. This list, now in the hands of operating officials, includes division and general chiefs, many of whom are competent to handle any part of the railroad's work.

Shippers were looking to motor trucks to solve many of their troubles, particularly those handling provisions and produce, while some of the more important war munition factories were said to have arranged for motor truck lines to carry completed shells to the nearest point on Lake Erie, where they could be sent to Canada by water and from there to Europe.

WILSON NEVER ASKED FOR A POSTPONEMENT

WASHINGTON, August 30.—Brotherhood leaders insisted after a conference with Secretary Wilson today that they had not been requested by President Wilson or any other administration official to postpone the strike and nothing except a satisfactory settlement of their demands could prevent a walkout.

"No power on earth except a satisfactory settlement now can prevent a strike," said W. G. Lee, president of the teamsters.

"We four heads certainly could not obtain a postponement of the strike if we wanted to nor could we postpone it if we received messages requesting such action from everyone of the committee of 640, who were here last week. President Wilson has not asked us to postpone the strike and he understands that we made it very clear to him on Monday night that we now are powerless to act unless a satisfactory settlement is made."

A. B. Garretson, head of the conductors and spokesman for the employees, made a similar statement.

Stored Energy

Everybody needs it—stored for emergency in well-developed, well-nourished body and brain.

Grape-Nuts food stands pre-eminent as a builder of this kind of energy. It is made of the entire nutriment of whole wheat and barley, two of the richest sources of food strength.

Grape-Nuts also includes the vital mineral elements of the grain, so much emphasized in these days of investigation of real food values.

Crisp, ready to eat, easy to digest, wonderfully nourishing and delicious.

"There's a Reason" for Grape Nuts

MONKEYSKIN WILL BE WORN THIS FALL

This waterfall monkey skin dress, designed by Gertrude Rothschild is one of the many pretty models on display at the Shelton Looms fashion show at the Ritz-Carlton, N. Y. The garment is for early fall wear. The edge of the skirt, the cuffs, and the little band on the collar are of a heavy velvet. The collar is unusual, high and does not insure comfort, even in the early fall. The dress is extremely simple in its cut and trimmings, but nevertheless is as dainty and pleasing a garment as any lady would wish to wear.

Life as it Actually is—at the Apollo

MONDAY EVENING ABOUT 8 P. X.

MONDAY evening at the Pike Street "Sweet Shop" everything was quiet, barring a few of the following "Accidentals," even the lights were softened—quiet because Jim has gone—gone to smoke a few more Fatimas with Clay, who simply can't smoke many stogies. Well, Jim, here's more power to you and some day I hope you will be on the other side of the Plaza's smoke-stand. Yet while here you always had your cokes and balls gratis, and now, revenge being sweet, it looks nice to all, for you to pony up for the third quencher. Well, about eight o'clock, a Lizzie stopped directly before the main entrance and a lovely apparition, "all set" in a stunning combination of pleasing yellow and white, blithely emerged; yes, that's the word, emerged from within the luxurious confines of said wagon and, with raven locks erect, took her seat at table No. 1.

Of course the main attraction was no other than our sweet Cuban tenor friend—all there, believe me; well, he paid those twenty cents as they left and would have succeeded in making a clean get-away but for one more incident, trivial as it may seem to my friend in the gas-wagon. The maid actually kept him waiting till she finished a few pleasant remarks with a few of the regulars. Hop, by this time grew impatient and called for assistance to crank his car, giving as his excuse that he had a tight coil.

Just then John Kane told us by making a detour to her side, that he "remembered her." Well, after that, Fritz couldn't stand the pressure any longer and had to go to the Palace after investing his thirty cents, got a vintage spot, but Fred Hesse, behind the scenes, didn't have nerve enough to tell the Tittian-haired soubrette that he was there, and he left in disgust, because the cook of Company A acted so unlady-like.

Among the first-nighters, Russell was noticed—yes, close to the violin, and it was then that Fritz vanished, only to appear escorting two most representative young ladies from the show. No, they did not need assistance.

Arthur is already planning all kinds of business-getters for the coming season, and among the suggestions received are some that sound like this—to have about six or seven screened booths, where a fellow can bring his long-lost sister without emulous eyes winking he would be in the trenches.

Yes, "Queeny" was away last night—everything quiet as before mentioned. 8-11-11, next Monday the joint will be five years young, and there's going to be a big thing. Kember's Orchestra will play and Gus Smith will sing a pretty ballad, "On the Border." No, not the Mexican border, Penna. border, near Ft. Marion. Words by Emmett Oll and music by the Count. Well, I hear a band coming, and me thinks I see Dana coming along, dressed like all the Arabian Knights. Yes, Page and Shaw are here, both feeling fresh.
